MAPLE LEAF FARMS

Since 1958, our ducks have been raised on local, family-owned farms. Our partner farmers share our commitment to quality and provide exceptional care for our ducks by following the animal well-being guidelines in our Trident Stewardship Program. We know the quality of our products begins on the farm.

ABOUT DUCK

While duck is poultry, it is very different than chicken and turkey because it's red meat. This means a well-prepared duck breast eats more like a steak than chicken. Unlike other red meats, skinless duck breast is very lean and has fewer calories and less fat than a skinless chicken breast!
